• LAS UVAS DE LA SUERTE •

Perhaps the most important tradition for Spaniards on New Year's Eve, Las Uvas de la Suerte—or the Eating of the Twelve Grapes—has been a pillar of Spanish Culture dating back as early as 1882. The tradition begins as the clock strikes Midnight, and the bells at the Puerta del Sol in Madrid ring out. Across Spain, people gather to eat Twelve Grapes—one at each toll of the bells—representing Good Luck & Prosperity for the Twelve Months of the coming year. We thank you for joining us to celebrate New Years Eve in Atlantic City, and with these Twelve Grapes wish you Good Luck & Prosperity in 2025!

We are excited to share this tradition here in Atlantic City.
